Delores Bohannon, secretary in the office of Superintendent Joe Gibson, surveys the damage done to the safe by burglars who hit the school last Thursday night. Some $50 in cash was taken from the safe. Three former West Texas State College athletes have posted $1,000 bonds each after being charged with the safe burglary and five other burglaries in Canyon. The athletic scholarships of the three youths have been suspended.

Students Post $1,000 Bonds After Burglary Charges Filed

The last of three West Texas State College students charged with burglary was released from county jail Monday after posting $1,000 bond.

Two other WT students were released on $1,000 bonds each over the weekend.

Charges against all three are pending action by the grand jury, which meets in April.

Arrested for Burglaries

The trio was arrested Thursday night in connection with a series of burglaries of Canyon businesses and Canyon schools.

Charged with burglary by breaking and entering are Roy Eugene Markham, 18, of Sedan, N. M., George Franklin Young, 18, of Borger, and James Donald Moore, 20, of Seagraves.

All are freshmen at the college, and all are on athletic scholarships. They are not in school at the present time.

Two Sign Statements

Canyon Chief of Police L. D. Caldwell said two of the students had signed statements admitting their part in a series of six burglaries within 10 days in the city.

Hit by burglars on March 8 was Cheatham's Clothiers and Farm and Home Supply. Broken into last Thursday night were Taylor and Sons Lumber Company, Taylor-Evans Farm Store, and the superintendent's office, the high school principal's office, and the junior high principal's office at the school.

Patrolmen Find Receipt

City Patrolmen Ray Reynolds and George Hinch discovered the burglary at Taylor-Evans about 10:30 p.m. Thursday, and found a receipt bearing the name "George Young" inside the store.

The receipt led to the arrest of the three. The youths admitted taking two packages of peanuts from the store.

While Reynolds and Hinch were waiting at Buffalo Courts, WT athletic dormitory, to question Young, sheriff's deputies Calvin Costley, M. A. Strickland, and H. F. Reid discovered a breakin at Taylor and Sons Lumber Company.

Deputies Chase Pickup

Strickland remained at the lumber company while Costley and Strickland continued their patrol. While on patrol they attempted to halt a pickup, which contained the three youths, which attempted to outrun the patrol car. Two men jumped from the vehicle while it was still moving and fled on foot.

The driver of the pickup was arrested by sheriff's deputies and the other two students were arrested by Reynolds and Hinch at Buffalo Courts.

The three were arraigned before W. A. "Bill" Wilson Friday in Justice of the Peace Court, and Judge Wilson set bond at $1,000 each, pending grand jury action.

Statements Admit Burglaries

The two signed statements admitting the burglary of Farm and Home Supply, Cheatham's, Taylor-Evans Farm Store, Taylor and Sons Lumber Company, Canyon Junior High School, and Canyon High School.

Taken from Farm and Home Supply were two .22 caliber rifles, two .22 caliber pistols, two or three hunting knives, two hunting jackets, and two boxes of .22 caliber shells.

From Cheatham's the two admitted taking one pair of boots, one pair of pajamas, six sport coats, one suit, seven pair of shoes, eight sweaters, eight pair of Levi's, one linen jacket, about 30 pair of cuff links, five or six tie and handkerchief sets, four or five sport shirts, two suit cases, and about $40 in cash.

Two Bags of Peanuts

From Taylor-Evans Farm Store: two bags of peanuts.

Taken from Taylor and Sons Lumber Company was one hack saw, one crow bar, one hammer, two or three screw drivers, one nail apron, and hack saw blades.

Missing from Canyon Junior High School was about $20 in cash and some keys.

Taken from Canyon High School, where the safe was battered in, was about $50 in cash and eight pints of milk.

Most of the money and goods has been recovered and is being returned to the owners.

Chief Caldwell pointed out that the case was an excellent example of the manner in which the city and county peace officers work together on cases.

Ghoulish Play Due On Tuesday at BIT

The spine-tingling and macabre thriller, "Rope," will be presented in a three-day run in the little Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College, beginning at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

"We have a group of unusually talented freshman students, and this production was selected to feature these six," William A. Moore, director of the Branding Iron Theatre, said.

The suspense drama by Patrick Hamilton will be in intimate theatre and will be directed by students, supervised by Moore and Robert L. Antrim, technical director for the BIT. The six freshmen in the cast will be assisted by Scott Glenn, a senior from Borger, and a special guest artist, Geoffrey Brownlee of London, England.

Aid for Accents

Brownlee, visiting in this area, has appeared in two Amarillo Little Theatre plays, and will assist the BIT cast with British accents.

"Rope" will be directed by Gary Wyatt of Dimmitt, one of the freshmen, who will also appear in the role of Wyndham Brandon.

Sets for the intimate theatre are designed by Erin Wertenberger of Hereford, another freshman, who will play the role of Charles Granillo. Glenn will play the part of Sir Johnstone Kentley, and Brownlee will play Kenneth Raglan.

Other Frosh Roles

The other four freshmen and their roles are John Gilliland of Hereford, as Sabot, Jo Beecher of Dimmitt as Lelia Arden, Barsha Fowler of Dalhart as Mrs. Debenham, and Morris Westberry of Dimmitt as Rupert Cadell.

Admission for the three-act mystery will be 75 cents, and reservations may be made through the WT speech department.

"Rope" was last presented at West Texas State in 1955 and starred some of the BIT's best talent, including Jerry Williams, Pat Starr Hall, Bobby Vandergriff, Buddy Knox, Verdi Knox, and John Lee Welton.

Based on Known Case

Though set in London, the play was based on the notorious thrill-killing of the 1920's, known as the Loeb-Leopold case.

An Alfred Hitchcock movie, starring James Stewart, was made in the early 1950's. A recent movie, "Compulsion," was based on the same case.

In "Rope," two youths murder a third, and with his corpse in the room, they give a party, to which the parents of the murdered boy are invited. An amateur sleuth reveals the murder. All action takes place in a student flat in London, and the intimate theatre style brings the audience close on the action.

Miss Virginia Crounse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Crounse, and Miss Sarah Ragle, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle, were first place winners in the girls' debate team competition for their division. They defeated Tom S. Lubbock High School of Lubbock, and were third place winners in the entire girls' division tournament, which was a part of the Amarillo High School Forensic Tournament last Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Lee Foster is director of the debate teams for Canyon High School.

Public Hearing on City's Budget Slated Monday

A public hearing on a proposed budget which calls for over a $30,000 increase in expenditures in the city in 1960-61 will be held Monday by the city commission.

The hearing will get underway at 7:30 p.m. at city hall, and all interested property owners in the city have been urged to attend the meeting by Herschell Stevens, city manager.

As proposed by City Manager Stevens, the budget calls for expenditures of $408,074.92 during the 1960-61 budget year.

Half for General Fund

However, only $202,284.25 of that amount is earmarked for the general operation of the city. Some $161,168 will be spent by the water and sewer department, while another $44,622 will go into the interest and sinking fund to pay off outstanding bonds and warrants of the city.

The budget shows that almost $118,400 is expected to be raised through taxation, with the remainder of the money coming from the city's other revenue raising activities.

The estimated valuation of the City of Canyon for tax purposes is $17,540,290, with taxes collected on 50 percent of the valuation. The current tax rate is $1.50, and it will not be hiked for the coming budget year, according to the budget figures.

Capital Outlay Approved

City commissioners have tentatively approved a capital outlay budget of $59,950 for the coming year, pending the action at the hearing Monday.

Included in the capital outlay budget is $1,000 for office equipment at city hall, $12,400 for the Fire Department's use, $8,000 for the Sanitation Department, $550 for the Park Department, $4,500 for the Pool Department, $5,000 for the Water Department, and $28,500 for the Street Department.

The money to the fire department is intended for the new fire truck, the purchase of additional fire hose, the repair of old trucks, and a heater.

Street Repairing Money

Some $25,000 of the $28,500 for the Street Department is earmarked for repairing the streets, while another $6,500 is for widening Fourth Avenue.

The departmental breakdown shows that the Administrative Department is allocated $26,700; police, $28,004; fire, $20,387; sanitation, $40,126; park, $1,728; pool, $8,925; street, $68,391; sewer, $8,395; water (production), $15,178; water (distribution), $29,754; water (administrative), $11,449.93.

Johnson Drilling Company for Texaco, Inc., will be to 7,950 feet. Name of the well is the No. 1 G. H. Leseberg, being drilled on a 320 acre tract.

Troth Announces For School Board

Interest in the coming vote to elect two new members of the board of trustees for Canyon Independent School District picked up this week when it was learned that Riley Troth had filed for election.

Two weeks ago Troth had said he would not file for election although a petition had been signed by some 200 Canyonites urging him to seek election.

Troth, owner of Canyon Drug, joins two candidates who previously had announced.

Bob Wear, minister of the Central Church of Christ, and Mrs. Clay Cooper, an incumbent, had already thrown their hats into the ring.

The election will be held April 2 at the American Legion Hall.

Persons who wish to vote absentee in the election may obtain ballots at the county clerk's office until three days before the election. The ballots will be placed with the clerk Thursday.

In announcing his decision to file for election, Troth said, "I've considered the election from every angle and I believe I would be letting down the many people who have urged me to run for the post if I did not seek election.

"I believe the voters in the school district should have a choice of candidates."

The Increase In Crime

With the arrest of three college students on charges of burglary and theft for a series of breakins in Canyon, the marked increase in major crime in Texas comes into better focus.

It appears that burglaries throughout the state are on the increase, along with other crimes. For instance, in 1958 the Texas Department of Public Safety figures showed 44,822 burglaries, while DPS figures for 1959 show 45,827—an increase of 2.2 percent.

The percentage of 2.2 is not large, but burglary is only one major crime—and the others also showed an increase.

As a matter of fact, of the seven major crimes—murder, rape, robbery, burglary, theft, auto theft, and aggravated assault—only robbery showed a decline.

Crime in all categories increased 3.9 percent in 1959 over the previous year.

What does all this add up to?

It means that over a 10 year period, crime in Texas percentagewise has by far outstripped population in increases. During the 1950's, population of our state increased 24.4 percent, while crime jumped a whopping 73.2 percent.

In 1950 the DPS's Identification and Criminal Records Section received 72,434 sets of criminal fingerprints. Last year the department received 110,531 sets of criminal fingerprints—an increase of 52.59 percent.

In the year 1950, identifications were made on 35,649 fingerprints, while 66,961 fingerprints were identified in 1959. This was an increase of 87.83 percent.

As was true in all phases of law enforcement work, activities in the department's chemical laboratory showed tremendous gains. In 1950, 2,500 chemical examinations were completed, as compared with 10,179 such tests last year.

The crime report of the DPS showed that on each day of the year during 1959 there were 125 burglaries, 43 automobiles stolen, 266 thefts other than automobiles, 32 aggravated assaults, seven robberies, three rapes, and three murders.

Although at first glance it would seem that we are fast becoming a state of criminals, we do not think this is the case.

In the first place, population has increased by 25 percent in the past decade. Therefore, we have an increase of at least 25 percent in the crime rate, or more, because most of the increase in population has come in the large cities like Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, etc.

And crime rates increase way out of proportion as the density of population increases.

Secondly, although the Department of Public Safety makes no mention of it, the lines of communication between the different law enforcement agencies within the state are much better now than they were 10 years ago.

This means that more crimes will be reported to the DPS, and more information will be requested from the state's chief enforcement agency.

The crime rate is appalling, but if there were some way to consider the population density and improved communication channels now existing we bet the picture would not be nearly as dark as the bare statistics would indicate.

Does Uncle Know Best?

Not long ago a witness before a congressional committee was critical of certain novelty gifts currently on the market.

He considered their manufacture a frivolous expenditure of time and effort. He noted that they involved a great deal of mechanical miniaturiation which usually was expensive. The drift of his testimony was that the time and effort going into the manufacture of such gimcracks could be applied better to the defense effort.

This typifies a kind of thinking increasingly in evidence in the mounting defense hubbub. The American people are accused of indulging a childlike fascination for tail fins to the detriment of their more important national concerns.

Implicit is the suggestion that they would be better off if their all-knowing government gently but firmly took the pennies out of their hot little hands and spent the money on something of greater national significance than licorice sticks or tail fins.

How this would turn out is fairly apparent in the uses that the government already is making of the money it regularly takes away from the taxpayers to spend according to its various compulsions, political and otherwise.

It's at least debatable whether tail fins are less preferable than a hydro-electrical installation in some far away underdeveloped sheikdom that doesn't have any power distribution system or even any machines or appliances operating off electricity.

What actually supports the idea that federal spending is necessarily blessed with more vision and wisdom than the spending that's done on individual initiative? Where would these suggested federal intrusions ever end?

What's evidently suggested is that the federal government ought to be made responsible for every problem from national defense to stream pollution that hasn't yet been resolved to the complete satisfaction of the critics.

This country scarcely would have developed its present industrial pre-eminence if the people hadn't been free to spend their money pretty much as they jolly pleased. If the government had been doing all the spending there probably wouldn't have been any tail fins to worry about. There might not have been any automobiles. —Daily Oklahoman

On 'Keeping Up'

The London Daily Mirror has asked that Princess Margaret's bridegroom remain "plain Mr. Jones."

"The best known Jones in the world is called Antony Charles Robert Armstrong-Jones," the newspaper said in a front page editorial.

"Already there is talk of giving photographer Antony a title now that he is about to marry Princess Margaret.

"Everybody will be delighted if, when he marries his Princess, they are known as the Joneses. Plain Mr. and Mrs.," the newspaper said.

The editorial ends with two words: "It's 1960."

To which we have nothing to add except that it occurs that it's becoming harder and harder to keep up. Now that one has come along with plans to marry Britain's Princess Margaret we'd like to ask those who traditionally insist on keeping up with the Joneses just how they propose to do it.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Hop Graham, Jr., in the State Line Tribune: For several months now, I've been taking the Wall Street Journal. You'd be surprised how important it makes a fellow feel when his friends catch him reading it.

This has really given me a big boost psychologically. The next best thing to being important is to have other people THINK you are. Sometimes you can even fool yourself.

Now, when I began to read the journal, I figured I'd be needing it to keep up with economic trends and sort of use it as a guidepost for the stocks and bonds that I was going to buy.

The little matter of a rapidly expanding family nipped my investment plans in the bud, though, and I find I have been speculating more on boys than on industrials. I think it would be hard to say which poses the greatest managerial challenge.

After my big investment program got clobbered, you'd think that I would give up reading the Journal—except just whenever other people are watching, I mean. But, actually, I have grown to enjoy the thing.

If you think that reading the Wall Street Journal is a stuffy experience, you ought to dig down into the drab grey pages and do a little bit of close inspecting. Check this lead on a recent front page story:

"How would you like your water fleas this evening?" says one spaceman to the other.

"I think," replies the other voyager to Venus, "that I'll have filet of water flea with, perhaps, a dash of garlic."

The above is a verbatim quote, so help me. It's the typical beginning style of a lot of "behind-the-scenes" stories that the Journal runs every issue. This particular one had to do with the notion among scientists that water fleas may be the solution to the problem of what to eat in space flight.

Incidentally, I can only recommend the Journal to you if you (1) truly appreciate this off-beat approach, or (2) have a lot more money than I do. The subscription price is $24 a year.

When I arrived in Eastland in the summer of 1921 to become editor of the Daily Oil Belt News, the courthouse was a red brick structure, trimmed in stone. The building was three stories high. It is interesting to know that the edifice cost $49,000.

Also as showing how times change, shortly before the discovery of oil (1917) in the county, Eastland's business establishments included blacksmith shops, two livery stables and a wagon-yard.

Casey Jones is the most famous of all the thousands of men who have ever worked on railroads. Why? Because somebody wrote a song about him.

Sam Bass is the best known of Texas' outlaws for the same reason.

William F. Cody killed one Indian in combat. (Some historians dispute that he did even this.) He took a contract to kill enough buffaloes to provide the Union Pacific Railroad construction crews with meat. He was also a pony express-rider. With these achievements as the foundation, he is regarded under the name of "Buffalo Bill," as the embodiment of the West. Why? He had a fine press agent.

Russell Article In Med Journal

An article by James E. Russell of Canyon, a West Texas State College graduate, appears in the March issue of "The New Physician," the journal of the Student American Medical Association.

Russell, son of WT's Graduate Dean and Mrs. James L. Russell, is a junior medical student at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

The article, "An Evaluation of the Literature Between Smoking and Lung Cancer," was written last year as a part of his thesis for the Department of Preventive Medicine and Public Health.

Russell discusses reports of two studies on the association of cigaret smoking and lung cancer and presents conclusions made by a number of medical authorities.

His own article concludes that "I will have to say I do not think the evidence presented so far either supports or disproves the assumption that smoking causes lung cancer."

Civil Rights

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

The House of Representatives last week commenced the debate on a bill generally called "the Civil Rights Bill."

Actually, the "popular name" adopted for this measure was not intended to set forth in a brief statement the purposes of the bill. The major purpose in choosing that title was to use something which would be appealing to the innate sense of fairness in the American people; something which would be inviting to the extent that the people generally would not take too much interest in the "small print" so often referred to.

This approach is not different from the approach which has been used by the advocates of centralized government and advocates of world government for the past several years.

These proponents were not making sufficient headway in approaching the problem by trying to sell the merits of centralized government in the United States and world government on an international basis, to the people of this country.

Hence, they hit upon the idea of progress by the use of catchy phrases and instead of talking about the encroachment of the federal government on the rights which had so long been exercised by the several states, or talking about replacing the dual sovereignty form of government with a single all-powerful force in Washington, D. C., or talking about subjecting the people of this country to the government of a court or legislative body made up of people from many foreign countries, they started talking about civil rights, world law, world peace and order, Commission on Human Rights, protection of the weak, economic development, federal aid in all facets of the economy, under various pleasing titles.

Took Different Tack

They realized that they were not going to be able to put over the world government theory on the American people or to usurp the rights of the states, all in one fell swoop. So, in conjunction with their new sugar-coated approach, they also conceived the idea of proceeding with their program on an item-by-item basis.

In short, they are adopting the same plan in politics which has proven so successful in military operations. That is, the "divide and conquer" theory. The program works this way: If a group of people in one geographical area of the United States are opposed to the complete package of centralized government because of their traditional belief in states' rights, they have been approached on a conciliatory basis of giving to these people in the first instance those segments of the overall program such as federal aid in several economic areas, and foregoing any of the distasteful portions of the overall program.

Gain Each Year

But what the people in these geographical areas fail to realize is that the world order advocates are only foregoing these distasteful parts of the program temporarily. Next year they will be back with more demands and will expect to make a settlement by giving up some of their demands and gaining perhaps only a few. The danger is that each year there is a gain; whether it's large or small, they plan on the gain. By this method they can keep up a constant pressure and thereby wear down the opposition.

That is exactly the plan which has been utilized in this so-called civil rights bill. No one, to my knowledge, denies or wants to deny any loyal American citizen the right to vote and I daresay that a bill guaranteeing this right and confining the measure to that particular principle would pass Congress by unanimous consent, if such legislation were necessary.

Children

Now to another subject and some statistics which may not be particularly helpful, but they are indicative and informative. The White House Conference on Children and Youth has just released a report reflecting the following statistics.

Families are larger—58 percent of the children are now in families of three or more children. Seven states now have 44 percent of the children under 18.

Incidentally, Texas is listed as one of the seven states having the greatest child population. More children are going to school longer. On the other side of the ledger, we find that juvenile delinquency is still rising, that gaps in programs for delinquents are wide, that city slums still provide one of the worst environments for children, although the poorest housing is in rural areas and small cities. There are many other pertinent facts, but space in this newsletter will not permit them to be listed.

Band Looking To Contests

The student body has elected the president and vice-president of the Student-Faculty Congress for next year. The halls have been crowded with posters and tags during a very colorful campaign week. Congratulations, winners!

The sophomores enjoyed a beatnik party recently in the high school cafeteria. According to one of the class sponsors, Mrs. Lee Foster, the party was a HOWLING success!

Sorry, we made a mistake. Peggy Sue Hales should have been included as a member of the Thespian Club when the members were mentioned in our last edition.

A new contra bass clarinet and a pair of cymbals have been added to the band. The band and its director, Mr. Demus, are looking forward to spring contests, especially with these new additions.

Three new students have entered CHS within the past two weeks. Hello to Connie Jo Heck, Jo Ann Benta, and Bill Laffoon.

Track and volleyball are now taking the spotlight in the field of sports. Best of luck to our teams as they enter the season's competition.

Industrial Arts Gives Students Project Making Opportunities

Many interesting projects of woodwork are made in the industrial arts workroom by the 59 high school boys who are under the direction of Mr. Sidney Burgess.

Mr. Burgess said that any boys planning on going into engineering would benefit by a course of woodwork.

He also stated, "We try to plan courses to fit the needs of all students, not just those going into specialized fields. Courses are designed for all students."

The projects are first planned on a worktable. They they have to be drafted and blueprints are made.

Freshman boys start on such projects as magazine racks, wall shelves, end tables, bookcases, gun racks, water skis, whatnot shelves and, in some cases, cedar chests.

First year classes use hand tools, and all work is done by hand. The second year classes and other advanced classes use power tools and machines, such as jointers, planers, lathes and shapers. A new circular saw, worth $600, has been added to the department. For handwork, tools such as files, rasps, and saw are used.

The files and hand planes contact the material and are used to begin the first simple, basic design.

A lathe is used for turning original designs, such as bowls and table legs.

Mr. Burgess stated that a glued piece of wood is usually stronger than a whole piece. Usually a white glue, such as Elmer's glue, is used.

Wood for projects is usually bought in the rough, and the boys plane and finish it themselves. The only thing the boys pay for is the cost of the materials.

The basic designing is done in a separate room from the workshop. Here all the drafting equipment is kept. The boys use a board and T-square to get the right horizontal lines. A triangle is used to draw vertical lines.

The beginning students usually start with simple lines. The plans are drawn and then placed on the wood.

There are 12 to 15 phases of instruction in industrial arts. Among these courses are metal ware, plastics, ceramics, jewelry, drafting, upholstering and woodwork.

Special projects in woodworking are being done. Marvin Hutton is working on a chest of drawers. Don Cloward and Ralph Cabe are working on bongo drums. Chuck Nester completed a gun case, and Pedro Hernandez made a cedar chest. Jim McAnarney is finishing a cradle. Jim Marrs and Jerry Ham have made water skis.

Art Rhodes, Jim Marrs, Jimmy McAnarney, Joe Whittington and Keith Brock give attention as instructor Sidney Burgess explains a process in the finishing of their industrial arts project.

Sophomores Stage 'Beatnik' Party

"Beatnik" sophomores of CHS staged a party in the high school cafeteria the night of March 10.

With bongo drums under their arms, most boys brought in some music to suit the time, place, mood and people. Small groups of beatniks wandered past an art gallery of surreadistic paintings "produced" by sophomore boys. Many carried on deep meditations while staring deep into a candle flame. Sitting on the floor with elbows popped on knees and chins resting in their hands, pseudo beatniks pondered the problems of the world.

These beatniks were indeed odd. Very rarely would you see one without some kind of lively expression. There was laughing, dancing, singing, music and all kinds of easily made recreation.

The cafeteria, decorated with "paintings," a "gold tumbleweed" in the center of the ceiling and candlelight on the floor, set the stage for all shades of colored hair, colored glasses, sideburns and "goatees."

The sponsor, Mrs. Lee Foster, was dressed with a football jersey, a long blonde pony-tail and a full dark pleated skirt, leotards, and a tam pinned to the side with a rhinestone pin. Several of the students' parents were there and the co-sponsor, Mr. Sidney Burgess.

Marion Henson, Kay Jarnagin, and Judy Roberts were accompanied by Karen Brewster in singing their versions of "I'm Just a Lonely Girl," "Get the Beat," and "Sea of Love." Later Mrs. Foster played the piano while there was group singing.

The general committee consisted of Judy Roberts, chairman; Terry Funk, Janie Jarrett, Kay Jarnagin, Ronnie Harris, Art Rhodes, Karen Brewster, and Richard Green.

Refreshments consisted of various kinds of cookies and hot spiced tea.

In summing up the party, Mrs. Foster said "It was a 'howling' success."

Seniors Hear Noted Author

"I have faith in you young people." These are the words of Mr. Jesse Stuart, poet, novelist, teacher, and humorist. Because of his sincere interest teenagers across the country return his faith by believing in him.

The Canyon High School senior class found Mr. Stuart a colorful, yet easy-going Kentuckian when they attended a talk given by him in the West Texas State College auditorium March 10.

In a relaxed, home-spun manner the talented Mr. Stuart spoke of everything from his boyhood to his writings. Aiming his talk to the students, he advised aspiring young writers to go after stories, write a lot but not be cold, and never throw any compositions away.

To emphasize these points he related incidents in his past and explained a few of the people used as characters in his stories. "Notice people," the writer said, "and watch them closely. Every person is a story." Mr. Stuart then said that writers should never be discouraged, never give up.

After his talk, Mr. Stuart left time for questions from the audience. When asked why he went on tours, he replied, ". . . give, give, give . . ." These words typified Mr. Stuart's entire attitude and the reason for his appealing charm.

He was also asked if the characters in his stories ever recognized themselves. Mr. Stuart answered that the people he uses as subject matter do not see themselves as he does and many of them can not even read. Another question concerned his opinion of the American public school system. "Public schools have made America," he emphasized.

This widely talented, versatile writer was born into a poor farming family in Greenup County in the hills of Kentucky. When he reached the age of 15 he had only 22 months of schooling. From this meager beginning he has obtained two degrees, a reputation as one of the most original and colorful writers of our time and has had many honorary degrees conferred upon him.

Agriculture Boys Special Guests At Farm Meet

The agriculture boys were special guests at the annual John Deere program March 9 in the CHS cafeteria at 7:30 p. m.

A film concerning John Deere farm equipment was the main part of the program. Mr. S. C. Damm, Texas Tractor and Equipment representative, was in charge of the meeting.

A drawing was held, giving away an electric drill, an electric potato peeler and a flashlight.

Refreshments of doughnuts, cold drinks and coffee were served by homemaking girls. These girls, under the direction of Mrs. Clara B. Long, were Linda Burgess, Peggy Sue Hales, Nancy Cleavinger, and Dorothy Higdon.

Mr. Miller Speaks To Honor Society

Mr. James E. Miller, CHS principal, spoke at the March 22 meeting of the National Honor Society concerning the student's choice of vocation.

His speech involved a discussion on the procedure for deciding on your vocation. He stated that you should have a high scholastic average in order to be properly prepared for your choice. The selection of proper courses to take for future preparation was also discussed.

All honor roll students were given a special invitation to the meeting.

The meeting was held in the homemaking living room.

CHS Band Attends Clinic

On March 10 from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m., Mr. Rowie Durden, woodwind instructor at West Texas State, held a band clinic with the CHS Band.

Purpose of the clinic was to prepare the band for their upcoming Interscholastic League Contest concert. The band will play "March of Herald," "Sequoia," and "Ode."

This year's band is composed of 55 members.

Spring Brings Interscholastic League Meet

The University Interscholastic League meet which is conducted annually during the months of March and April is already under way.

In the athletic department, the Track and Field Meet will be held in the first part of April. Those boys participating in the event, according to Coach Bill West, are Jerry Richardson, broad jump and 440; Chuck Nester, hurdles; Doug Ward, 880; Jerry Smyrl, mile run; Bill Callarman, shot and discus throw; Ronnie Harris, mile relay.

Art Rhodes, mile relay; Jim Killingsworth, high jump; Lew Johnson, 220 yard dash and 440 relay; Wayne Rutherford, high and low hurdles and pole vault; Leon Henderson, 100 yard dash and 220; George Prichard, 440 relay and mile relay; Richard Green, 440 and low hurdles. Robert Henry and Jess Sheets have not yet determined in which event they will compete.

Playing for the girls will be Virginia Crounse, Bonnie Jo Whittington, Kathy Hinger, Linda Gazzaway, Dorothy Crain, Dinia Bond, Jeannie Brazil, and Joy Harter.

The volleyball team played last week. The names of the girls on the team will be found in another story in this issue.

In the literary division CHS has many entries. Junior declamers are Lynne Larson, Jeanne Brazil, Elaine Loudder, Ralph Kuehn, Larry Holman and Harry Lisle.

Those entered in senior declamation are Eugene Blasdel, Ted Abbott, Cheryl McClure, Carolyn Franklin, Judy Roberts and Peggy Sue Hales.

Reading poetry are Doug Bond and Carole Jones. Kerry Knorpp and Pat Haley will represent Canyon in extemporaneous speaking.

Carole Jones, Ted Abbott, Jeanne Wheeler and Bill Cornette will star in a scene from "The Glass Menagerie" which is being used for the one-act play contest.

Entries in journalism have not yet been decided.

Entered in spelling are Deanna and Frances Stocker. Their alternate is Lynda Redman. Sally White and Robert Blythe are the entries in ready writing.

The CHS band and choir will represent Canyon in the music division. Soloists from the band are Pat Haley, Patsy Seymour, Mary Barger, Judy Wilson, Janie Myers, Phillip Waters and Carolyn Franklin. Ensembles are Dorothy Higdon, Anne Guthrie and Nancy Cleavinger, woodwind trio; Anne Guthrie, Linda Green, Patsy Seymour and Beverly Richard, clarinet quartet; Carolyn Franklin, Mary Barger, Judy Wilson and Sandra Barger, French horn quartet.

Representing the choir will be soloists Carole Jones and Jeanne Wheeler. Billie Miller, Carole Jones, Bonnie Jo Whittington, and Stephanie Conboye form the only ensemble entered.

All in all, Canyon High School has many capable contestants.

Choir Presents Music Program

Dressed in new robes of shimmering purple, the CHS Choir entertained the students and faculty members at an assembly held on March 10.

The program, held in the high school auditorium, consisted of several numbers done by the choir, the girls' quartet, soloist Jeanne Wheeler, and the boys' ensemble. The choir sang five selections under the direction of Mr. Gene Murray and one under Mr. James Jackson, student teacher.

Billie Miller, Carole Jones, Bonnie Whittington, and Stephanie Conboye sang "Autumn Leaves." They were accompanied by Virginia Ransom.

The boys' ensemble, consisting of Ronnie Harris, Neal Lemons, John Wear, Jim Killingsworth, and accompanied by Don Guill, sang several numbers, one of which was "Three Jolly Coachmen."

Miss Wheeler sang "Summertime" from the opera "Porgy and Bess."

FTA Hears Report

Marla Free, Linda Green and John Wear reported on the FTA State Convention they attended February 19-20 at Denton to the D. A. Shirley Club, FTA, at their monthly meeting March 21 at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Bill Callarman, president, presided, andB everly Richard, vice-president, introduced the program.

Billie Miller and Lynda Redman were hostess chairmen for the meeting. Others on the committee were Linda Gazzaway, Linda Brown, Pamela Richard, and Linda Troth.

Nominations Made For S-FC Officers

Nominations have been received for candidacy for president and vice-president of the Student-Faculty Congress of the 1960-61 school term.

Campaign speeches were made in assembly Monday, and voting was done on Tuesday. At press time for The Eagle's Tale results were not available.

The nominees for president are Ralph Cabe, a sophomore, Dorothy Higdon, Jimmy Dale Killingsworth and Phillip Waters, juniors.

Those running for vice-president are Kerry Knorpp, Steve Hill and Mike Moore from the junior class and Ronnie Harris from the sophomore class.

Each candidate had to file a petition in the principal's office bearing 25 names of students who believe him to be qualified for the office. Three candidates turned their names in as nominees for the offices. The others were nominated from the floor in assembly last week.

Requirements for the offices include such things as grades, truancies, attendance, and attitude.

Summer Training Application Made

Several CHS students are making application to attend the Summer Science Training Program for science and math students. The purpose of this program is for gaining additional information in science and math that would not ordinarily be obtained in a typical high school course.

CHS students who took the qualifying test and who are now making application to one or more of the participating colleges are Jacquita Barnard, Bill Callarman, Elizabeth Coke, Jimmy Killingsworth, Lynda Redman, Weston Moore and Phillip Waters.

Colleges and universities participating in the training program are Texas A&M, East Texas State College, Howard Payne College, Pan American College, SMU, Stephen F. Austin, Austin State College, Texas Woman's University, University of Houston, University of Texas and Wiley College.

Long Life Span Aim Of Driver Education

"To help people live to be 116 years old instead of 16," Mr. Ray Wells said is the purpose of teaching Driver Education to high school students.

Any high school student who does not have his driver's license may take Driver Education.

The course begins with the study of a driver's textbook and driver's manual. These books teach the students the value of safe driving, safety rules, and the parts of a car.

A written test completes the study course, and the students must pass this before they are permitted to do their practice driving. This test is given by the state driver's license examiner. If the student passes the test, he receives a learner's permit or restricted license.

Six hours of practice driving, with a driving instructor, are required for each student. In addition each student must have six hours of observation. They may then take the driving test which is also given by the driver's license examiner. If the student passes this test, he receives his non-restricted license.

The Bruce Blackaby Ford Motor Company furnishes the car driven by the students. It is equipped with all the safety features plus dual controls. The dual controls are operated by Mr. Ray Wells, instructor; however, they do not allow him to start the car or pull it out of a tight place. All they allow is for him to stop the car.

Miss Alice Brotherton, Mr. James "Coach" Kauffman, and Mr. Ray Wells are the instructors teaching this course. Mr. Wells teaches the students how to drive, while the other two teach safety rules, parts of a car, and the importance of good driving.

At the end of this year 110 students will have completed the course in order to become safe drivers and to receive their non-restricted licenses.

Canyon VIP

JUDY TAYLOR

Last year's state FHA degree winner, Judy Taylor, is this week's VIP.

Judy, a senior, has been a cheerleader for two years, is a member of the National Honor Society, and was chosen for the Junior Who's Who. She was also top student in homemaking this year.

Judy recently reported to an Eagle's Tale reporter, "My aim in life is to do God's will to the best of my ability and have a home as happy as my home."

Miss Taylor attends the Methodist Church. Her favorite person is her brother, Wilford Taylor III, and her pet peeve is for someone to pop gum in her car.

Her hobby is sewing, and she likes to dance. Judy considers the Kingston Trio her favorite entertainers. She is also kept busy attending beauty and modeling schools.

After graduation, Judy plans to attend the University of Texas where she will major in business.

Judy lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Taylor, Jr., at 407 Taylor Lane.

Juniors Present Drama Production

Almost the entire junior class participated in the production of the play, "The Little Dog Laughed" on March 7 and 8.

Under the director, Mrs. Lee Foster, the production staff, ushers and others, the play was very successfully performed after weeks of planning, ticket selling and practices.

On the program committee were Pat Abbott, Doug Bond, Eugene Howard, Patricia Salmon and Joe Triplett. The ticket committee consisted of Jim Glenn, Don Liles, Jo Ann Thompson, Norma Henderson and Betty Gouge. Prompters were Jan Brotherton and Dorothy Higdon.

Ushers for Monday evening were Jan Brotherton, Marita Gill, Lynda Redman, Pat Abbott, Nancy Cleavinger, Jo Ann Thompson, Carolyn Franklin, Betty Gouge, Rhenea McClenny, Eddie Cunningham, Joe Triplett, George Prichard, Jim Cooke, Mike Moore, Eugene Howard and Sue Fain.

Several Students Take Math Test

The tests covered courses taken in Algebra I, II and plane geometry.

Main purpose of the contest is to interest students in mathematics and science courses.

Pins will be awarded to individuals in an assembly when results of the tests are received. If a group of students receives a high average, the school receives an award.

All students that took the test are solid geometry students this year. Mr. Wells said Velda Jean Oberst made the highest score on the tests he graded.

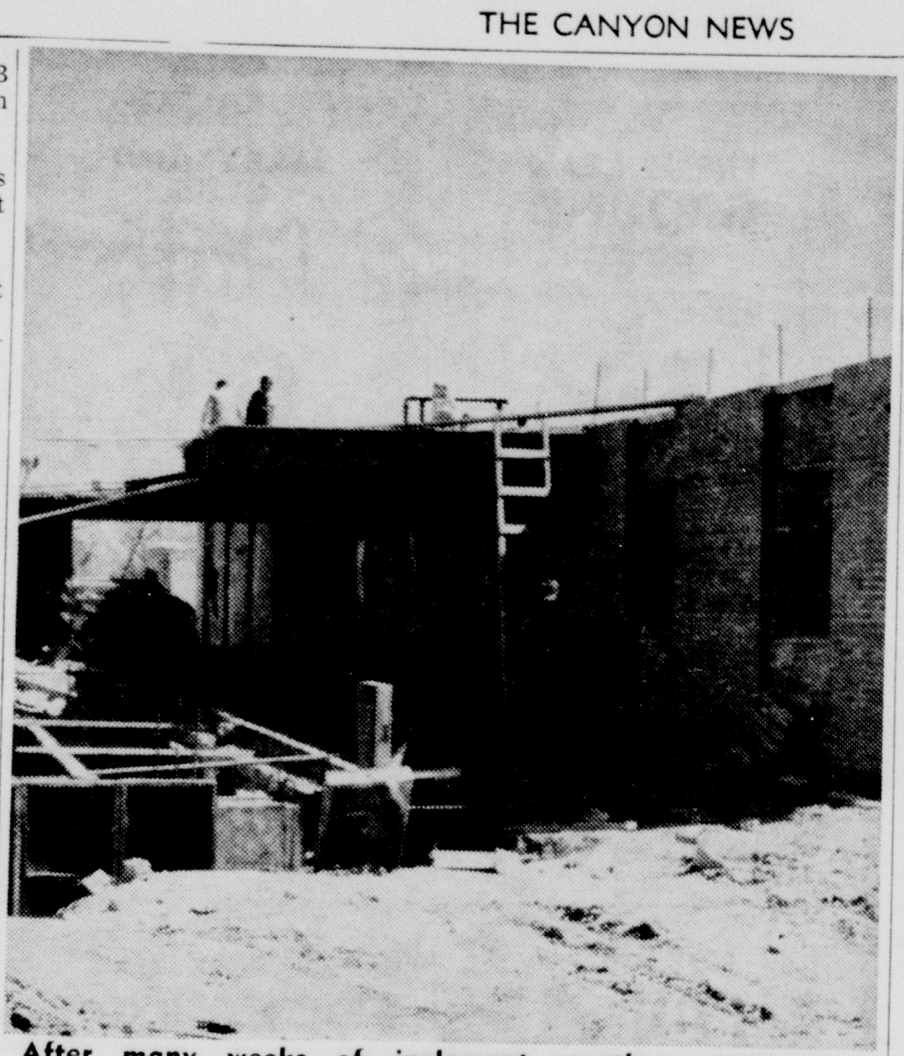
Theresa McCormick On OSU Dean's Honor Roll

Theresa McCormick of Canyon, a junior in the college of education at Oklahoma State University, achieved the dean's honor roll for the past semester.

This honor is awarded only those O-State students who make a B average or above while enrolled in at least 15 college hours.

If you're ashamed of your gas mileage, do as others do—fib about it.

When we find the wreckage, just whom shall we call?



After many weeks of inclement weather, contractors throughout the city have been busy playing "catch up" during the beautiful spring weather which Canyon has enjoyed for almost two weeks. Construction on the new men's dormitory at West Texas State College is now beginning to take shape. The two-story structure, part of a $1,474,000 expansion program, will house 176 students. Also being built is a dormitory for women students and an addition to the student union building.

Tom Wilbanks One of 16 On Trinity Dean's List

Thomas J. Wilbanks, son of Rev. and Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks of Amarillo, was one of 16 Trinity University students listed on the dean's list. Students must attain 15 semester hours of A in order to qualify.

A senior social science major on the Skyline Campus, Tom is Chief Justice of the Student Court, president of Blue Key, a member of Alpha Phi Omega, International Relations Club and the Student Christian Council.

Wilbanks has been on the dean's list twice and the honor roll five times.

IRS Official Tells How to Claim Dependents for Tax Deductions

How to claim tax deductions for dependents on federal tax returns for 1959 was explained by H. B. Hamill of Internal Revenue Service.

Hamill reminded area taxpayers that the deduction for a dependent is $600 and that there are no additional exemptions for age or blindness in the case of dependents.

"Cancelled checks and receipts supporting tax deductions should be kept at least three years after filing that 1959 return," the IRS representative advised.

Test of Support

The first test to be met for the allowance of a dependent is whether the taxpayer supplied more than one-half of the support of the dependent, unless claimed under the multiple support agreement.

Assuming the taxpayer meets the support test, Hamill said that exemptions are allowed for:

(1) Your children, including stepchildren and those legally adopted, who are under 19 years of age or, if over 19, is a student on a full time basis for at least five months of the year, even though the child may have income in excess of $600;

(2) Children over 19 whose gross income is less than $600;

(3) Married children who did not file a joint return with husband or wife;

(4) Other individuals related to you or your wife or husband;

(5) A person unrelated to you who lived in your home and was a member of your household for the entire taxable year.

Multiple Support Pact

An exception to the requirement that a taxpayer meet the support test for the allowance of a dependent is provided by the multiple support agreement. If you are one of a group of persons who contributed more than one-half of the support of an individual you may designate one of the group to claim the dependent if:

(1) Each of the group contributes more than 10 percent (but not over one-half) of the support of an individual;

(2) The amount contributed by the group is more than one-half of the support;

(3) Each one of the group is otherwise entitled to claim the dependent except for failure to meet the support test;

(4) Each member of the group (except the one claiming the dependent) files a written declaration that he will not claim the dependent in that year.

For example:

Example of Pact

Two brothers and two sisters each contribute 25 percent of the support of their father. Neither of the four meets the support test and cannot claim the exemption except under the multiple support agreement.

They may decide among themselves which one will claim the dependent. Then, the other three must sign the written declaration to be filed with the return of the brother or sister claiming the dependent, the IRS representative said.

Commissioners Hear Bond Men

Representatives from three municipal bonding companies met with Randall County Commissioners Court Monday to discuss a bond election that may face county voters.

An election may be called to finance a loop around Amarillo.

Commissioners refused to make any alliances with any of the three men, who were Jerry Barker of Plainview, H. L. Shaffer of Amarillo, and Sidney A. Wooldridge of Lubbock.

Barker estimated the county's share of right-of-way costs, with the state participating on a 50-50 basis, would be "$250,000 or $260,000." He explained that interest rates on county and municipal bonds has been dropping in the past three months.

The bondsmen said they did not think 3.25 percent interest would be possible for Randall County, unless it was on short term loans.

County Auditor E. T. Cummings replied that the county had "about as much short term debt" as the taxpayers could handle.

PRACTICAL PLAN

Nothing wrong with a lofty aim in life, but be sure you have a good supply of ammunition.

People who claim they say just what they think probably never thought to think.

Personality Fete Dated at College

Ten West Texas State College students have been nominated for King and Queen of Personality to reign over the annual Plains Personality Pageant, set here April 1 and 2.

The pageant, sponsored by WT's student government, honors not only the college personalities but representatives of high schools throughout the Panhandle and South Plains.

Nominated for the college honor were Winfred Cates of Shamrock, Earl Gillham of Claude, Steve Slagle of Hereford, Wayne Smith of Pampa, and Pat Stephens of Post.

Girls named for Queen honors are Bette Cave of Amarillo, Janis Dunnam of Lefors, Faye Jabin of Vernon, Eleanor Maddox of Claude, and Judy Neslage of Pampa.

The WT student body will vote for King and Queen, and identity of winners will not be revealed until presentation ceremonies during the pageant April 2.

High school visitors will register from 6:30 until 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Student Union Building. A talent show and dance will be given from 8 until 11:30 p.m. Registration on Saturday will be from 12:30 until 1:45 p.m., and guests will be honored at a play from 2 until 2:45, a coke party at 3 p.m., and will rehearse for the pageant at 4:30.

Following a dinner, the pageant dance opens at 8 p.m. Entertainment for visitors who do not dance is planned.

Catholic Center Blessing Sunday

Blessing of the Catholic Newman Center, 2614 Fourth Avenue, will take place Sunday at 1:30 p.m. with Bishop John L. Morkovsky of Amarillo presiding at the dedicatory rites, assisted by the Very Rev. Francis Smyer, J.C.L., chancellor of the Diocese of Amarillo; and the Rev. James Comiskey, pastor of St. Ann's Church here and director of the center.

Open house will be held following the blessing and will continue until 4 p.m. Special invitations have been mailed to parents of Newman Club members.

The new center serves the Catholic students of West Texas State College. There are 90 Catholic students enrolled at the college, of whom 50 live on campus. The center provides facilities for religious, cultural, and social activities for the Catholic students at WT. Three classes are taught weekly at the center. On Monday, "Life in Christ;" on Tuesday a Catholic Inquiry course; and on Thursday a marriage preparations course is taught.

Contained in the center are a chapel, two classroom areas, kitchen facilities, and a recreation room. A separate building provides a residence for four students. The chapel will be blessed under the title of "Our Lady of the Canyon."

Newman Club coordinator is Miss Mary Grabber. Miss Matilda Gaume is faculty advisor.

An open invitation is extended to all members of the community to attend.

DOUBLE GUNN BROS. STAMPS TUESDAY

March 15, 1960

To The Honorable E. E. Jordan, Judge of the 47th District Court
and To The Honorable Randall County Commissioners Court
Gentlemen:

Attached is a report of Randall County finances for the year 1959. It is composed of three main divisions as shown by the Table of Contents, namely Bonded Indebtedness, Fees of Office, and Treasurer's Receipts and Disbursements.

Auditing procedures have consisted of the following: Audit in detail of offices of the Justices of Peace and District Clerk; comparison of all fee officers' reports of remittances to the County Treasurer with the receipts by the County Treasurer; comparison of the receipts issued by the County Treasurer with the depository bank deposits; count of undeposited cash-on-hand by all fee officers who receive and disburse funds; spot checking the accounting procedures in all fee offices and rendering necessary help and advice on recording or accounting problems; examining and approving warrants after approval by the Commissioners Court. In addition, we have aided wherever possible in the purchase of materials and supplies for the county offices.

The financial books and records of Randall County have not been audited by ~~an~~ independent Certified Public Accountant since the year ended December 31, 1956. I wish to recommend again that an independent audit of the county records be made, at least for the following offices: Tax Assessor-Collector, County Clerk, and Sheriff. Transactions of the Treasurer's Office, the Justices of Peace, and the District Clerk have been examined in detail by the County Auditor. However, since the County Auditor is required by law to sign county warrants before payment, an independent audit of the Treasurer's disbursements would also be advisable.

I wish to thank all of the county officials for the courtesies and cooperation extended me in conjunction with my job as County Auditor.

Sincerely yours,
E. T. Cummings

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Democrats have marked June 14 on their calendars. Austinites have circled it in red.

June 14 is the day some 5,000 Texas Democrats will converge on the Capitol City for their state convention.

It's expected to be many big days rolled into one.

It will be the first time in recent memory that the huge colorful gathering has come to Austin. A large new city auditorium and convention center makes it possible.

It's the day that comes only once every four years when Texans name delegates to a national presidential nominating convention.

But most excitement cetners on the fact that Texas Democrats will be assuming what is usually a once-in-a-lifetime role—that of sponsoring a major contender for the presidential nomination.

Work is under way in every part of the state to insure that the delegates to Austin will give rousing support to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for favorite son nominee and chairman of the Texas delegation to Los Angeles.

Senator Johnson's chances of becoming president were re-emphasized by Gov. Price Daniel and cheered by the State Democratic Executive Committee when the party leaders met to plan the June convention.

Committee members selected Dallas for the second state Democratic convention on September 20. Their meeting also was made an occasion for honoring Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Seguin for a quarter century of loyal service to the Texas Democratic party.

Court Rejects Vote Hassle

Texas Supreme Court refused to consider a direct appeal from the City of Austin that it order a complete recount of votes in a hotly contested urban renewal election.

Issue has had Austinites in a stew for months. It was originally announced after the election in December that urban renewal had carried by a 52-vote margin. Eight property owners contested the election results on grounds that ballots were cast by persons not qualified to vote.

After nine of 18 contested boxes had been opened, District Judge James K. Evetts of Belton declared the election void. He said there were so many disqualified voters and improperly marked ballots that it was impossible to determine the election outcome.

Austin's city attorney petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Evetts to open and examine all the ballot boxes. He contended the qualified voters had a right to have their votes counted.

Having lost out on a direct plea to the Supreme Court, City Attorney Doren Eskew said he would go through the usual appeal route, going first to the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

College Home Delayed

Governor Daniel's office and the Legislative Budget Board are to make a "full review" before plans proceed to build an $87,000 home for the president of Sam Houston State Teachers College.

A number of legislators hit the ceiling last session over similarly costly homes built for presidents of Southwest Texas State College and Stephen F. Austin State College. Restrictions were written into the current appropriations bill aimed at preventing further expenditures on such a scale.

Rep. James M. Cotten, member of the House committee on saving taxes, wrote the governor to protest what he called a "tremendous waste."

Governor Daniel said he had been assured by the chairman of the Board of Regents for State Teachers' Colleges that no action would be taken until everyone interested had had his say. He pointed out, however, that the home was to be built from constitutionally allocated funds to which the legislative appropriation restrictions "have been held not to apply."

More Judges Suggested

Larger metropolitan areas such as Houston, Dallas, and San Antonio may soon need larger Courts of Civil Appeals. This observation was made by Associate Justice James R. Norvell of the Texas Supreme Court and others in a study made for the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Judge Norvell suggested that five judges, rather than three, may be needed soon for the courts in the city areas.

Supreme Court, the study also noted, may also soon need some further restrictions on cases it will handle to prevent too heavy dockets. Civil Appeals Courts were created to keep everything from going to the Supreme Court, but the high court is flooded with appeals from these courts.

Judge Norvell suggested limiting the Supreme Court to constitutional issues and cases where there is a conflict in judicial decisions.

Oil Allowable Cut

Railroad Commission cut the state's oil production for April after testimony that both crude oil and gasoline were in oversupply.

April allowable will be 2,814,252 barrels a day, a cut of 123,029 barrels a day from March. Number of producing days was cut from 10 to 9.

Oilmen told the commission that other states, such as Louisiana and Mississippi, had not cut back production to offset the oversupply as Texas has. This state, said one Texas executive bitterly, is taking the "backlash" of the situation.

Tighter Driving Law

Legislation that would crack down on the driver who does not even have a driver's license has been proposed for the next session.

Rep. Ben Lewis of Dallas said that under present law a person who drives without having a license can only be hauled before a city court and fined about $10.

By contrast, he said, a license holder who gets three tickets and has his license suspended can, if he drives during the suspension, be put in jail and fined as much as $500.

Lewis said he would propose a series of stiffer penalties for the people who cannot pass driver tests but drive anyway.

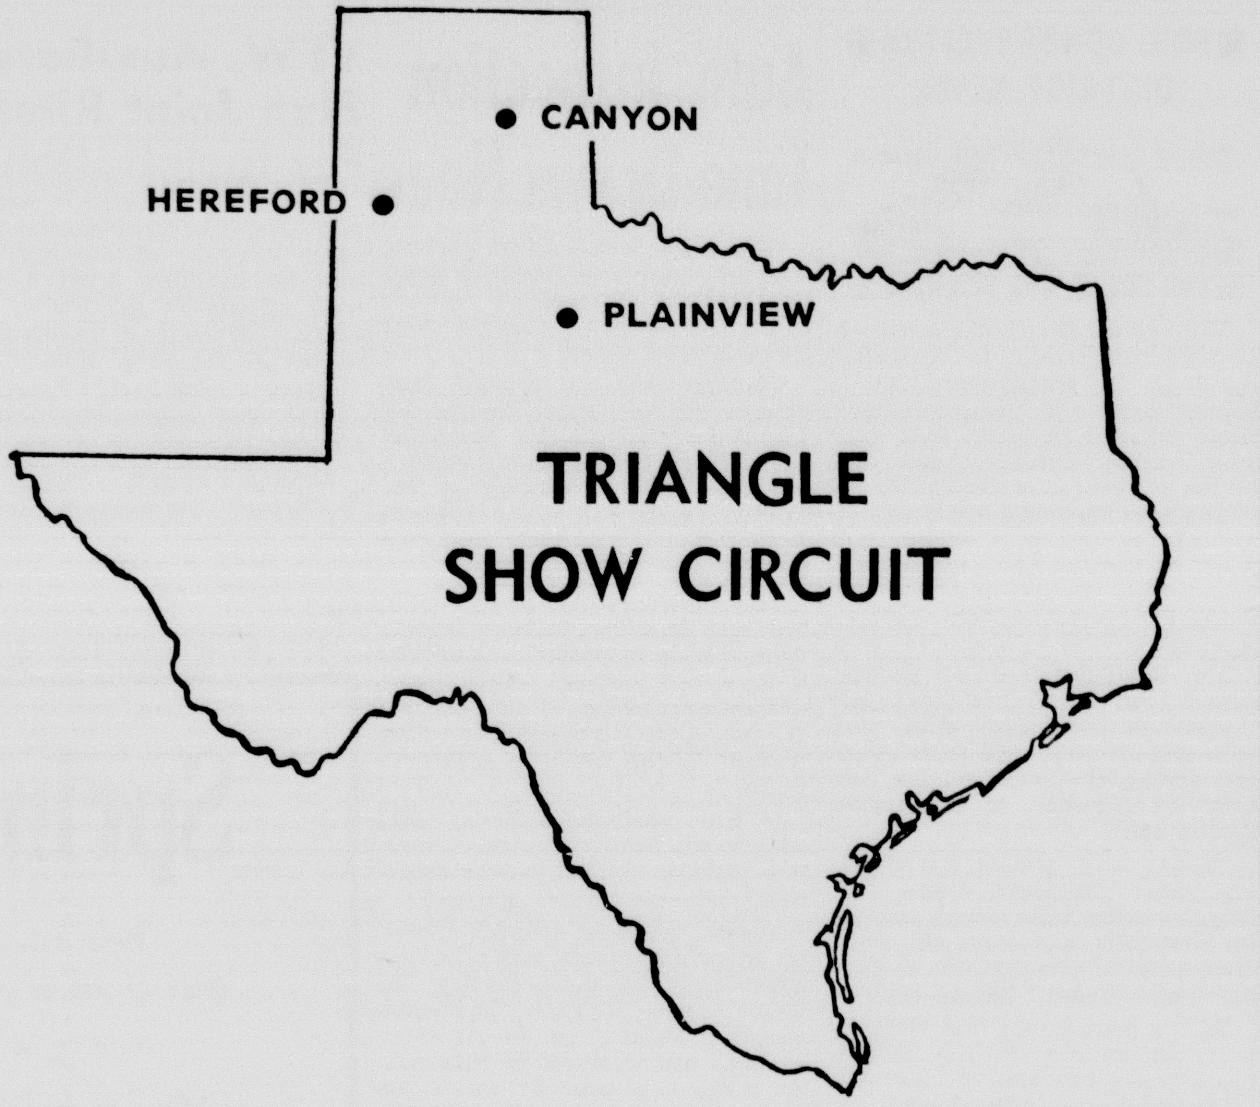
Services Conducted For Resident's Kin

Funeral services for Will S. Kerr, a half-brother of Bryan McDonald of Canyon, were held Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church of Hereford.

Mr. Kerr died Friday of injuries received when he fell from a windmill at his farm south of Hereford.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gililland Funeral Home.

A pioneer in the Hereford area, Mr. Kerr is survived by his wife; four sons, Clifford, Joe, and Norman, all of Hereford, and Pat of Alamogordo, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. Clay Ridgeway of Hereford, and Mrs. Bob Birchfield of Amarillo, and another brother, Reavis Kerr of Hereford.



Quarterhorse enthusiasts in this area will mark up a first this year when the Triangle Show Circuit is staged. Feature of the event will be three quarterhorse shows rolled into one. Entries will be shown at Plainview May 19, at Canyon May 20, and at Hereford May 21, John Carlile, show manager, said. The Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce is the Canyon sponsor of the show, which last year drew 125 horses. Judge for this year's show will be Bob Collins of San Saba. The show will be held in the new arena now under construction east of the National Guard armory on Highway 217. The new arena is a joint project of the Jaycees, the West Texas State College Rodeo Club, and the Randall County Sheriff's Posse.

Episcopal Church Sets Council Meet

The second annual Council of the Episcopal Church in Northwest Texas will meet in Saint Paul's Episcopal Church in Lubbock on March 25, 26, and 27.

Attending the council from All Saints' Episcopal Church in Canyon will be Everett W. Glenn, warden of the congregatoin, and John K. Kahler, delegate. The Rev. Joel C. Treadwell, vicar of All Saints' Church and chaplain-director of Canterbury House, the Episcopal Student Center at West Texas State College, will represent the local church.

The council opens Friday with a service of evening prayer at 8 p.m. at which time the Right Reverend George H. Quarterman, bishop of the diocese, will deliver his annual address to the delegates and visitors.

Following the Friday evening service, a reception will be held in the Parish Hall of St. Paul's, at which time Bishop and Mrs. Quarterman will greet the delegates in a receiving line with other clergy and lay leaders of the diocese.

The business meeting of the council will convene on Saturday morning, and the delegates will be asked to approve a $135,000 budget for diocesan and missionary activities, as well as elect delegates to the 1961 General Convention of the Episcopal Church.

Coincident with the meeting of the council, the churchwomen of the diocese will be in session, with Mrs. Frank Kimbrough, president of the Churchwomen of All Saints' Church, and Mrs. O. L. Coleman, delegate, representing the local churchwomen.

On Saturday evening, the Right Reverend C. Avery Mason, bishop of the Diocese of Dallas, will address the council banquet.

This is the golden anniversary year of an Episcopal jurisdiction in this area, and this occasion will provide the theme for the dinner. Also, this year is the golden anniversary year for All Saints' Church.

Two services on Sunday, including the installation of officers of the Churchwomen of the diocese at a 7 a.m. celebration of the Holy Communion, and a 9 a.m. service of morning prayer at which Bishop Mason will be preacher, will conclude the meeting.

Nearly 300 delegates and visitors from the 35 congregations in the diocese are expected to attend.

LIPSTICK LOGIC
BY LOUISE ALLEN

It's hard to know what to blame for this month's weather. Is it the groundhog, who has been snoozing away since February 2? (How he could sleep through all this furor is a mystery!) If he's responsible, he has now had his nap, so surely the snow, ice, and cold winds will vanish.

If the lion-that-March-comes-in-like is stirring up all the rumpus, we can hope he's a civilian cat who will settle for half the month. However, if he lives by the jungle creed of claiming the lion's share, the lamb (that March-goes-out-like) may not even get to make a quiet exit. Instead, said lamb may be chased off the deep end of the month helter-skelter into an April shower.

We suspect the March hare as the true offender. He's a notoriously wild fellow, nothing like his timid kinsmen of January, June, and October. He's around every year, but in our memory has never before been so rambunctious.

We look hopefully toward the first day of spring, which should be along soon. We see some discouragement, however. Spring is the season, the book says, "when plants begin to vegetate and grow." That can hardly happen now! Or, says the book, spring "begins with the vernal equinox and ends with the summer solstice." We've no idea what this means, but since the sun and moon got in each other's light early Sunday morning, we have hopes that a change weather-wise is in the offing.

The poet Shelley, in the last line of his "Ode to the West Wind," asks confidently: "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" Undoubtedly winter has come — and lingered, far into March! What's to blame? The groundhog? The lion? The hare?

Hunting at Night Seen by Wardens

AUSTIN — Night hunters kept game wardens busy in February, according to the monthly report of E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Thirty-five arrests were made for illegal night hunting and headlighting of game animals. At the same time, wardens arrested 37 persons for fishing with out a license. A $2.15 license is required for all persons between 16 and 65 who fish with a rod and reel. This includes saltwater fishing.

Ten hunters found out they couldn't get away with killing deer out of season. Several others were booked for killing ducks, geese, quail, and squirrel after the season closed. In all there were 214 arrests, which brought fines and court costs to $7,947.29 for the month.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The world's first water conservation postage stamp, to be issued April 18 in Washington, D. C., honors rural and urban organizations engaged in small watershed conservation activities, according to Joe G. Batson of the S.C.S.

The new four-cent stamp will go on sale at the post office here April 19, the day following its issuance at the Seventh National Watershed Congress in the nation's capitol.

The Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District, all watershed protection and flood prevention projects, and all watershed associations are among the local groups honored by issuance of the stamp, Batson said.

"These local groups are attacking water problems where they begin—on the farm where the water first falls, and along the small creeks and brooks that join to form our major rivers," Batson said.

Batson pointed out that virtually every community in the country has a water problem of some sort—too much (periodic floods), too little (droughts), or to poor (polluted).

The Randall-Potter SCD has approximately 220 cooperators at the present time.

1925 Club Meets With Mrs. Brown

The 1925 Bridge Club met with Mrs. Hatcher Brown Wednesday afternoon.

Auto Inspection Time Draws Near

"There are less than 20 working days left until the April 15 deadline for the new Motor Vehicle Inspection sticker," Captain Alan Johnson said today.

Captain Johnson, service commander for the Motor Vehicle Inspection service of the Texas Department of Public Safety, pointed out that only 44 percent of the 459,372 registered motor vehicles in this region had been inspected as of March 1.

This indicates that many motorists continue to postpone having their vehicle inspected. By failing to do it now, drivers face the possibility of waiting in line at one of the state approved inspection stations as the deadline approaches.

If bad weather continues, this adds to the burden because inspection stations do not make inspection while the streets are wet.

Texas registered vehicles operated on public streets and highways after April 15 must display the 1960 Motor Vehicle Inspection sticker. Failure to do so often leads to traffic arrest for the driver without a current inspection sticker displayed on his vehicle.

Mrs. Cornett Hosts West Side Club

Mrs. Frank Cornett was hostess to the West Side Home Demonstration Club March 16. Mrs. M. T. Maddux presided over the business session.

Refreshments were served to 16 members and to visitors, Mrs. Eugene Frische and children and Mrs. Noble Brown and son.

The next meeting will be April 6 in the home of Mrs. George Hand.

Miller Receives Cancer Award

Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller of Canyon.

He plans to enter Southwestern Medical School in Dallas this fall and specialize in some type of cancer research.

Members of the selection committee were Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WT; Dr. Robert C. Busteed, chairman of the science division, and Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean of WT. The scholarship fund was raised by a telethon over an Amarillo station in 1956.

Miller is a member of Alpha Chi, national honor society for juniors and seniors, and was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" this year. Married to the former Ann Alexander of Amarillo, he has served as director of Christian-Presbyterian Student Center and has worked at the Lions' Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville for three summers and one long-term.
